CONTENTS

List of Tables vii
List of Figures ix
List of Abbreviations x
Notes on the Contributors xiii

Introduction
Elena Baracani 1

Part I Definitions and Frameworks of Analysis

1 Are There Hybrid Regimes? Or Are They Just an Optical Illusion?
Leonardo Morlino 25

2 Mixed Regimes in Post-communist Eurasia: Tipping Democratic and Tipping Authoritarian
Valerie Jane Bunce – Sharon Wolchik 57

3 External Economic Constraints and Democratization
Roberto Di Quirico 87

Part II International Anchors

4 European Union Democratic Anchoring
Elena Baracani 111

5 United States Democratic Anchoring
Alessandra Pinna 135

6 Russia Anchoring on Belarus, Georgia, Moldova and Ukraine
Mara Morini 161

7 International Monetary Fund and Democratic Anchoring. Fostering Economic Growth and Institutional Strengthening
Manuela Moschella 199
Part III Domestic Dynamics: Democratic Change Agents, Veto Players and Foreign Policy Orientations

8 The Political Economy of Oligarch Stagnation. Russia – in Transition to Where?
Eugenia Baroncelli 231

9 From Veto Players to Potential Change Agents: Economic Elite's Shifting Interests and Ukraine’s Orientation to the West
Rosaria Puglisi 269

10 Moldova’s Democratization: from Immobility to Regression
Alina Stanciulescu 299

11 Regime Development in Belarus and the Role of International Actors
Anastassia Obydenkova 327

12 Georgia’s Democratic Veneer: Scraping the Surface
Jonathan Wheatley 351

References 381