Table of contents

Preface by author  7
1. Connecting the space: ‘the exteriority’  11
2. The ‘Psychic-enclosure’ in governmentality  19
3. The ‘legal principle of subjectivation’  25
4. The legal subject and the desiring matter  39
5. Dispositive, enunciation, visibility  45
6. The ‘inner truth’  53
7. The power of influencing the others  63
8. The governmentalisation of emotions  73
   8.1. The digital shrift  76
   8.2. The judgment  78
9. The affect as the line of flight from the judgment. The ‘affective sleepwalking’  85
10. Digital governmentality  97
   10.1. The empirical case: Facebook and suicide  99
   10.2. Open questions  100
   10.3. Methodological reflections  101
   10.4. Main Bibliographical References  103
Moloch by A. Ginsberg  105
Appendix
Neuro Habitat. Isolation, solitude and control into the ‘digital Umwelt’ di Ubaldo Fadini  107
References  119