TABLE OF CONTENTS

General introduction 7

PART I - Defence policy of the Netherlands, 1948-1954 13

Chapter 1 - Reluctance to build up the nation’s defence, 1948-1950 15

Introduction 15
1.1 The Western Union and the secret military agreement with Belgium 18
1.2 The start of NATO, and the pleas for German rearment 31
1.3 Unwillingness to increase the defence effort 49
Conclusions 65

Chapter 2 - The fixing of a defence ceiling and the development of the army, 1951-1954 69

Introduction 69
2.1 The visit of Eisenhower and the immediate aftermath 70
2.2 The decision to increase the defence budget and the ensuing problems 81
2.3 The McNarney plan 97
2.4 Dutch opposition to the French fortress strategy 106
2.5 The build-up of Dutch defence, 1952-1954 113
Conclusions 129

PART II - The Netherlands and the European Defence Community, 1950-1954 133

Chapter 3 - The politics of the European Defence Community 135

Introduction 135
3.1 The announcement of the Pleven plan, and the Dutch objections to it 136